

Ealing skyscraper resurrection 'not ruled out'

8 May, 2013 | By Merlin Fulcher

The new owners of Ealing's Arcadia shopping centre could reignite plans for a tall building on the high-profile west London site

Property developer Benson Elliot appointed Allies and Morrison to rework the plot in November, three years after a 26-storey residential skyscraper scheme by Foster + Partners and HKR was rejected.

The practice submitted low-rise plans to revamp the shopping centre side of the one hectare site last month but a consultation
